1. PURPOSE

Global Procurement Group (“we”) is committed to actively promoting equal opportunities in employment and creating a workplace culture in which diversity and inclusion is valued and everyone is treated with dignity and respect. We wish to achieve a working environment that promotes a zero-tolerance approach to discrimination in any form and you and any job applicants will receive equal treatment regardless of their age, disability, gender & gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, colour, nationality, ethnic or national origin, religion or belief, sex, and sexual orientation (“Protected Characteristics”). Any issues or breaches of this policy will be dealt with under our Disciplinary Policy and Procedures.

This policy sets out our approach to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Our aim is to encourage and support diversity, equity and inclusion and actively promote a culture that values difference and eliminates discrimination in our workplace. It applies to all aspects of employment with us, including recruitment, pay, benefits and conditions, flexible working and leave, training, appraisals, promotion, conduct at work, disciplinary and grievance procedures, and termination of employment.

We are also committed to providing equitable treatment to all those we deal with as an organisation, including customers and suppliers.

This policy applies to employees, officers, consultants, contractors, volunteers, apprentices, casual workers, and agency workers (“Employees”). It is not part of your employment contract. It may be amended at any time.

For those Employees who are based outside of the UK, should there be any conflict between this policy and local law, or any location-specific Equal Opportunities/Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Policy put in place by the company (or any subsidiary) from time to time, the local law or location specific policy shall take precedence over this policy.

2. RESPONSIBILITY FOR THIS POLICY

The board of directors have overall responsibility for the effective operation of this policy and to ensure we operate in compliance with discrimination law. However, all Employees, customers and clients are expected and have a personal responsibility to act in a way that does not subject any other person to direct or indirect discrimination, harassment, victimisation, or bullying, particularly on the grounds of a Protected Characteristic.

All managers must set an appropriate standard of behaviour, lead by example, and ensure that those they manage adhere to the policy and promote our aims and objectives with regard to diversity, equity and inclusion.

Any individual who fails to operate in accordance with the law could be held personally liable for their acts, and in some circumstances, face legal consequences.

3. DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION TRAINING

Managers will be given appropriate training on recognising and avoiding discrimination, harassment, and victimisation and promoting equality of opportunity and diversity in the areas of recruitment, development, and promotion. The People Director has overall responsibility for equality training, for all employees, as appropriate.

We will provide you with regular training to ensure that everyone is aware of and understands the contents of this policy and the Anti-bullying and Harassment Policy. Following the training, you will be required to confirm that you have read, understand, and will comply with this policy and the Anti-bullying and Harassment Policy.

We will also provide equality and diversity training regularly.

4. TYPES OF DISCRIMINATION

You must not unlawfully discriminate against or harass any person. This includes but is not limited to, current and former employees, job applicants, clients, customers, suppliers, visitors, and members of the public. This applies both inside, and outside of the workplace, whether you are at work or not, as we believe you represent the Company at all times. This includes during any company social events or work-related trips.

Discrimination may be direct or indirect and includes discrimination by perception and association.

The following forms of discrimination are prohibited under this policy and are unlawful under the Equality Act 2010:

Direct Discrimination: treating someone less favourably because of a Protected Characteristic.

Indirect Discrimination: is a provision, criterion, or practice ("PCP") (for example a rule or a policy, or a way of doing things) that applies to everyone, but which has a worse impact on someone with a Protected Characteristic than someone without one and is not or cannot be objectively justified.

Harassment: is unwanted conduct related to a Protected Characteristic which has the purpose or effect of violating someone's dignity, or creating a hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for them.

Victimisation: is retaliation against someone who has taken action under the Equality Act (like making a complaint of discrimination) or supporting someone else who is doing so.

Disability discrimination: this includes direct and indirect discrimination, any unjustified less favourable treatment because of the effects of a disability, and failure to make reasonable adjustments to alleviate disadvantages caused by a disability.

Bullying is not covered by the Equality Act 2010, but can be defined as unwanted behaviour from a person or group that is either:

- offensive, intimidating, malicious or insulting; or

- an abuse or misuse of power that undermines, humiliates, or causes physical or emotional harm to someone.

The Company does not tolerate any form of bullying or discrimination as defined in this policy. Harassment and bullying are covered in more detail in our Anti-bullying and Harassment Policy, so please refer to this policy for more information.

5. RECRUITMENT AND SELECTION

Recruitment, promotion, and other selection exercises such as redundancy selection will be conducted on the basis of merit, against objective criteria that avoid discrimination. When recruiting or promoting, we will aim to take steps to improve the diversity of our workforce and provide equality of opportunity. Shortlisting and interviewing should be done by more than one person where possible. Our recruitment procedures will be reviewed regularly to ensure that individuals are objectively assessed on the basis of their relevant merits and abilities.

Vacancies should generally be advertised to a diverse section of the labour market. Advertisements should avoid stereotyping or using wording that may discourage particular groups from applying. They should include a short policy statement on equal opportunities and the employer's commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion in the workplace and state that a copy of this policy will be made available on request.

Job applicants should not be asked questions which might suggest an intention to discriminate on grounds of a Protected Characteristic.

Job applicants should not be asked about health or disability before a job offer is made.

We are required by law to ensure that all Employees are entitled to work in the UK.

6. DISABILITIES AND REASONABLE ADJUSTMENTS

If you have a disability or become disabled, we encourage you to speak with the People Team at people.team@gpgltd.co.uk or your manager to help us understand more about your condition so that we can look at what support may be available to you. This will include considering any appropriate reasonable adjustments that would help you overcome or minimise any difficulty experienced as a consequence of the disability.

7. PART-TIME AND FIXED-TERM WORK

Part-time and fixed-term employees should and will be treated the same as comparable full-time or permanent employees and enjoy no less favourable terms and conditions (on a pro-rata basis where appropriate) unless different treatment is justified.

8. ACTING ON DISCRIMINATORY BEHAVIOUR

In the event that you feel you are subject to, or witness discriminatory behaviour, please refer to the Anti-bullying and Harassment Policy for more information on the steps you should follow. If you would like to raise a complaint, please refer to the Grievance Policy.

You can also discuss any concerns with the People Team or your manager.

Although we appreciate it may be difficult to do so, we do encourage all employees to report any wrongdoing, regardless of their relationship with the employee involved or their seniority.

9. ADVICE AND SUPPORT ON DISCRIMINATION

There are a number of ways employees can access advice or support on matters concerning discrimination. These include:

1. Speaking to the People Team or their Manager.
2. Contacting one of our Mental Health First Aiders at wellbeing@ngpltd.co.uk
3. Contacting Safecall (an independent and confidential service) on 0800 915 1571,

There are also some useful contacts within the FAQ section below (Appendix A).

10. REVIEW OF THIS POLICY

The Company reserves the right to review and amend this policy from time to time.

11. BREACHES OF THIS POLICY

We take a strict approach to breaches of this policy, which will be dealt with in accordance with our Disciplinary Procedure. Serious cases of deliberate discrimination and victimisation may amount to gross misconduct resulting in dismissal.

If you believe that you have suffered harassment, bullying or discrimination, or witnessed it happening to someone else in the workplace, you can raise the matter through our Grievance Procedure and through our Anti-bullying and Harassment Policy as appropriate. Complaints will be treated in confidence and investigated as appropriate.

There must be no victimisation or retaliation against anyone who complains about or reports discrimination. If you believe you have been victimised for making a complaint or report of discrimination or have witnessed it happening to someone else in the workplace, you should raise this through our Grievance Procedure.

We encourage the reporting of all types of potential discrimination, as this assists us in ensuring that diversity, equity, and inclusion principles are adhered to in the workplace. However, making a false allegation in bad faith, or that you know to be untrue, will be treated as misconduct and dealt with under our Disciplinary Procedure.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

- Q. What is defined as a Protected Characteristic?
- A. A protected characteristic refers to the characteristic of a person (or the characteristic that a person is perceived to have or is associated with) and includes the following:
- Age
 - Disability, including people with a cancer diagnosis
 - Gender reassignment, including gender identity
 - Marriage and civil partnership
 - Pregnancy and maternity
 - Race, including colour, nationality (including citizenship), ethnic or national origins
 - Religion and belief, including philosophical belief and lack of belief
 - Sex
 - Sexual orientation.
- Q. What is discrimination by association?
- A. Discrimination by association is treating someone less favourably because they are associated with a person with a Protected Characteristic. For example, where a person is treated less favourably because of their association with an individual with a Protected Characteristic.
- Q. What is perception discrimination?
- A. Perception discrimination occurs when a person is treated less favourably because of the mistaken belief that they possess a Protected Characteristic. A Employee can successfully pursue a claim for harassment on the basis their sexual orientation after being subjected to unwanted joke suggested that they are homosexual, even if they are not homosexual.
- Q. What is a provision, criterion, or practice (“PCP”) that could lead to a complaint of indirect discrimination?
- A. A PCP is a rule or policy that will have a greater impact on a people with a Protected Characteristic than people without. For example, requiring a job to be done full-time rather than part-time would adversely affect women because they generally have greater childcare commitments than men. Such a requirement would be discriminatory unless it can be justified.
- Q. When can I ask an applicant about their health or disability?
- A. Applicants should never be asked about their health or disability before a job offer is made, except in the very limited circumstances allowed by law: for example:
- to check that the applicant could perform an intrinsic part of the job (taking account of any reasonable adjustments),
 - to see if any adjustments might be needed at interview because of a disability,
 - Positive action to recruit disabled persons,
 - Equal opportunities monitoring provided that it will not form part of the selection or decision-making process.

Where necessary, job offers can be made conditional on a satisfactory medical check, but this will need to be justified, discuss, and approved by the People Team.

- Q. Will I be asked to complete an Equal Opportunities Form?

A. Yes. To ensure that this policy is operating effectively, and to identify groups that may be underrepresented or disadvantaged in our organisation, we monitor applicants' ethnic group, nationality, gender, gender identity, disability, sexual orientation, religion, and age as part of the recruitment procedure. Provision of this information is voluntary, and it will not adversely affect an individual's chances of recruitment, or any other decision related to their employment. The information is removed from applications before shortlisting and kept in an anonymised format solely for the purposes stated in this policy and in accordance with data protection legislation and our Data Protection Policy.

Analysing this data helps us take appropriate steps to avoid discrimination and improve equality, diversity, and inclusion.

Q. Can I ask a job applicant if they have a family or are planning to have a family in the future?

A. Applicants should not be asked about their family or caring arrangements or whether they are pregnant or planning to have children.

Q. Which applicants need to provide right-to-work information?

A. All prospective Employees, regardless of nationality, must be able to produce original documents (such as a passport) showing their right to work in the UK before employment starts, to satisfy current immigration legislation. The list of acceptable documents is available from the People Team or UK Visas and Immigration. Assumptions about immigration status should not be made based on appearance or apparent nationality.

Q. What will you do if I report my health problems or disability?

A. We will deal with this information confidentially and will use it wherever needed to enable us to make reasonable adjustments and facilitate your continued employment

Q. What kind of adjustments will you make to help me if I declare a disability?

A. Adjustments may include:

- Making adjustments to premises to improve access, where possible;
- Re-allocating some duties to other employees;
- Transferring to a new role;
- Relocating to a more suitable office;
- Giving time off work for medical treatment or rehabilitation;
- Providing additional or targeted training or mentoring;
- Supplying or modifying equipment, instruction, and training manuals; or
- Any other adjustments the Company considers reasonable and necessary, provided such adjustments are justified and proportionate.
